The 2023 Idaho Knife Association Traditional and Tactical Knife Show is open to knife makers, suppliers of knife making equipment and materials, local manufacturers, knife and arms collectors, tactical equipment suppliers, dealers and knife and gun related media. The IKA reserves the right to bar the display and/or selling of any item it deems not appropriate for the show. No firearms are to be sold during the show.

All exhibitors are required to be present throughout the posted show hours. In order for the show to be successful the IKA requires all vendors to maintain their table set-up at their assigned table until the posted break down time at 5:00pm Saturday.

All table holders and participants agree to abide by the Traditional and Tactical Knife Show rules and to hold the IKA, its officers and the Hotel harmless for any accident, loss, damage, theft, or injury. Any question or dispute arising from the show, during set-up or tear down or during the organizational logistics of the show, shall be at the sole discretion of the officers of the IKA, whose decision will be final.

Knife Making Competition: All knife makers who have purchased a table and who are present during the show hours will be eligible for the knife making competition. The categories for the knife making competition are currently being reviewed and will be shared at a later date.

If paid by July 1st, table rate will be the same price paid last year.
